QUEENS, NY, October 20, 2022 – Award-winning manufacturer Crystal Window & Door Systems is moving its national expansion plans forward with a new branch office in Dallas, TX. Located near major highways at 454 West Mockingbird Lane in the West Dallas neighborhood of the city, the facility will include a sales showroom, warehouse space, and administrative offices. At over 5,600 sq. ft., this will be the largest of Crystal’s branch sales and distribution centers independent of a production facility.

National manufacturer Crystal Window & Door Systems is expanding in Texas with a new sales and distribution branch in Dallas. The new branch will include warehouse space and a sales showroom similar to this one at Crystal’s Chicago offices (above, right).

“In recent years, Crystal has supplied several projects in the region and with the Texas construction market booming, it makes sense for us to establish a presence here,” said Frank Ganninger, Central West Regional Manager. “This will allow Crystal to further develop relationships with the design and construction professionals here.”

The Dallas branch office is undergoing renovation and fit-out and will be operational early next year.
